

Project Development Phase

Project Demonstration

Project Demonstration:

A project demonstration is a presentation or showcase of a project's features, functionality, and benefits to an audience. It typically involves showcasing the project's key components, technologies, and capabilities in action, either through a live demonstration or a pre-recorded video.

The purpose of a project demonstration is to provide stakeholders, potential users, or investors with a clear understanding of the project's goals, progress, and potential impact. It allows the audience to see how the project works, its key features, and how it addresses specific needs or challenges.

A student management system is a software application designed to streamline the administrative tasks and information management processes in educational institutions. It serves as a centralized platform for storing, organizing, and accessing student-related data, including personal information, academic records, attendance, and grades.

I attached my project demonstration video. Here's a link

<https://youtu.be/G3yR65YNgcM>